Detailed Programme

WELCOME

Dear Colleagues,

The 2020 International conference on Energy Finance: Global climate governance and Energy finance: Challenges and Opportunities, held by China University of Petroleum (East China), School of Economics and Management and jointly organized by Chinese Society of Optimization, Overall Planning and Economical Mathematics and China Energy Finance Network in conjunction with Energy Economics, International Review of Financial Analysis, International Review of Economics and Finance, Finance Research Letters, will take place online on 24-25 October 2020.

The conference will provide a platform for international scholars to share their frontier research. It also aims to provide a valuable forum for practitioners, policymakers and academics to discuss and critical analyze the major issues and challenges in the area of energy finance.

On behalf of the organizing committee and scientific committee, we would like to invite submissions of high quality, internationally focused, original researches. Papers to be considered include but not limit to the following topics:

Climate and carbon finance

Climate change economics

Energy market systemic risk modelling

Green technology innovation

Green finance and investment

Deep decarbonization

Energy corporate finance

Sustainable consumption

Data-driven modelling in energy and environment

We are looking forward to seeing you online.

CONFERENCE CHAIR

Professor Jianping Li University of Chinese Academy of Sciences

Jianping Li is a Distinguished Research Fellow at Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS), and professor at School of Economics and Management, UCAS. He has received the National Science Fund for Distinguished Young Scholars (2014). He serves as Executive Member and Secretary-General of the International Academy of Information Technology and Quantitative Management, Executive Editor-in-Chief of Chinese Journal of Management Science, etc. He was awarded the China Youth Science and Technology Award, the National Excellent Scientific and Technological Workers and the Excellent Tutor Award of Chinese Academy of Sciences. He has published 6 monographs and over 180 papers in various journals and conferences/proceedings.

Professor Dayong Zhang Southwestern University of Finance and Economics

Dayong Zhang is a Professor of Financial Economics at Southwestern University of Finance and Economics, China. Professor Zhang received his PhD from the University of Birmingham (UK). His research interest covers broad areas of energy economics, energy finance, banking and finance, and general economic and financial issues in emerging economies. He has published more than 90 articles in peer-reviewed journals, including: Journal of Banking and Finance, British Journal of Management, Ecological Economics, Urban Studies, Energy Journal, Energy Economics and others. He is an associate editor of International Review of Financial Analysis, International Review of Economics & Finance: senior editor of Finance Research Letters, International Journal of Emerging Markets; guest editor of Energy Economics, Energy Policy etc., the cofounder of China Energy Finance Network, and one of the board of directors of the Society for the Study of Emerging Markets (SSEM).

Professor Peng ZhouChina University of Petroleum

Peng Zhou is Professor and Dean of the School of Economics and Management, China University of Petroleum at Qingdao. He has been with Nanjing University of Aeronautics and Astronautics as a professor after obtaining his PhD degree from the National University of Singapore (NUS). Dr. Zhou works in the broad area of energy economics, policy and management, which had led a number of publications in journals such as Ecological Economics, Energy Economics, JEEM and The Energy

Dr. Zhou was a winner of the China National Science Foundation for Outstanding Young Scientists (2016). He is a Senior Editor of Energy Policy, an Associate Editor of Energy Economics, an editorial board member of several other journals such as Energy and Energy Efficiency.

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE CHAIR

Dr Qiang JiInstitutes of Science and Development
Chinese Academy of Sciences

Qiang Ji is an associate professor in Institutes of Science and Development, Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS). His research interest covers broad areas of big data and energy finance, energy economics and energy strategy management, forecast modelling and risk management and financial econometrics. He has published more than 130 articles in peer-reviewed journals, including: The Energy Journal, Energy Economics, International Journal of Forecasting, and others. He is the principle investigator of over ten grants from the National Natural Science Foundation of China (NSFC) and CAS. He serves as senior editor, associate editor and subject editor for Finance Research Letters, International Review of Financial Analysis, International Review of Economics and Finance, Emerging Markets Finance and Trade and International Journal of Financial Engineering. He is the co-founder of China Energy Finance Network.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Professor Shouyang Wang Chinese Academy of Sciences

He is currently a Bairen distinguished professor and the founding director of Center for Forecasting Science of Chinese Academy of Sciences, and a Changjiang distinguished professor and the dean of School of Economics and Management, The University of Chinese Academy of Sciences. He is a fellow of The Third World Academy of Sciences, an academician of International Academy of Systems and Cybernetics Sciences, a fellow of Asian Industrial Engineering and Management Society, is/was the president of International Society of Knowledge and Systems Sciences, a vice president of International Association of Financial Risk Management, a vice president of International Society of Global Optimization, the president of Systems Engineering Society of China, an executive director of International Federation of Systems Research, an executive director of International Institute of Forecasters, and a vice president of Chinese Academy of Management.

His research interest includes energy economics and energy management, financial engineering, and environment economics and policy designing. He has published 42 monographs (20 were published by Springer and Taylor & Francis in USA and Europe) and over 400 papers in leading journals, including Nature, Nature Energy, Nature Communications, Nature Human Behaviors, Nature Urban Sustainability, Energy Economics, Ecological Economics. His total SCI/SSCI citations is over 10000 and his H-index is 54. He is the editor-in-chief, an area editor or associate editor of 16 journals, such as Energy Economics.

Besides, He submitted 250 policy research reports to the State Council and the governmental departments, over 100 policy suggestions were adopted by the government as its economic policies and industrial policies. He is an advisor of Ministry of Commerce of PR China, an advisor of The State Commission of Development and Reforms of PR China, an advisor of The State Bureau of Energy of PR China.

Professor Dabo Guan
Tsinghua University

I hold a joint Chair of Climate Change Economics and Low Carbon Transition between University College London (UCL) and Tsinghua University. My international reputation for environmental resources accounting, climate change mitigation in developing countries and climate change adaptation economics has resulted in six academic awards, 130+ publications, high profile media coverage, international conference and committee invites and lead authorship for the fifth Assessment Report by the Intergovernmental Panel for Climate Change. I am the Highly Cited Researcher for 2018 and 2019, which recognised for world-class researchers selected for their exceptional research performance, demonstrated by production of multiple highly cited papers that rank in the top 1% by citations in Web of Science. I received the PNAS Cozzarelli Prize 2014 (acknowledges the best paper that reflect scientific excellence and originality published in PNAS), and the Philip Leverhulme Prize in 2013 - the prize of £70k is awarded to outstanding scholars who have made a substantial and recognised contribution to their field of study, recognised at an international level. I also received the British Academy Advanced Newton Fellowship in 2016 with an award of £64k. I was conferred on the Fellow of Academy of Social Sciences (FAcSS) in 2019. My h index is 59 with citations over 13.000 times (Google Scholar), including 40+ articles published in, Nature, Nature Research Journals and PNAS. I have received the Leontief Memorial Prize on three occasions. My paper was awarded for the "Top Policy Paper 2007" by Environmental Science & Technology.

I have a strong funding track of record from various research funding bodies, having successfully obtained ~ 20 research projects, worth about £25 million in total. Budgets brought to home institutions were over £3 million in the past five years. My research has been frequently reported by international media and adopted by policy stakeholders as scientific evidence in setting environmental policies. My paper about climate change and beer drought received the 2018 Altimetric Top 100 award and was the most "talked about" climate change-related paper in media and social media. My developed CEADs (China Emission Accounts and Datasets) provides the most up-to-date energy, emission and socioeconomic accounting inventories for China and its 30 regions and 200+ cities. Produced data and results were used as official statistics in China as well as low carbon development guidelines for 50+ cities in China.

Professor Boqiang Lin

Xiamen University

Boqiang Lin obtained his Ph. D in Economics from University of California at Santa Barbara, a 2007 "Chang Jiang Scholar" Distinguished Professor, and Dean of China Institute for Studies in Energy Policy, School of Management, Xiamen University; Editor, Energy Economics: His current research and teaching areas including energy economics and energy policy. He is a member of National Energy Consultation Committee under National Energy Commission; Member of National Energy Price Consultation Committee under National Development and Reform Commission; Guest Commentator for China Central TV and China National Radio. He is currently a member of the executive committee of Board of Stewards on Future of Energy of the World Economic Forum based in Dayos Switzerland, He is also in the advisory boards of several world-level projects initiated by the World Economic Forum including Global Battery Alliance, Fostering Effective Energy Transition, and Accelerating Sustainable Energy Innovation. He was invited ten consecutive years participating the World Economic Forum in Davos since 2011. He has received 14 times of the ministerial and provincial-level science research awards and responsible for more than 120 research projects. He has published more than 470 academic papers in international and domestic energy and economics journals, with a hindex =55, with 51 highly cited papers.

Professor Bin Chen

Beijing Normal University

Bin Chen is a distinguished professor of energy system modelling at Beijing Normal University. He obtained B.E. degree in electrical engineering from Zhejiang University, and Ph.D. degree in environmental science from Peking University. Dr. Chen has published over 200 peer-reviewed papers in prestigious international journals such as Science Advances, Nature Communications, Nature Climate Change, PNAS, and Trends in Biotechnology. His works are widely recognized and have more than 10000 citations with H-index of 55 according to Web of Science. He is serving as Editor-in-Chief of Energy, Ecology and Environment, Executive Editor of Journal of Cleaner Production, Associate Editor of Frontiers of Earth Science, Subject Editor of Applied Energy, and an editorial board member of Energy, Ecological Modelling, Journal of Environmental Management, Journal of Hydrodynamics and Ecological Informatics, Environmental and Sustainability Indicators, Current Research in Environmental Sustainability, etc. He was also among the organizers and keynote speakers for various international conferences.

Dr Dengsheng Wu

Chinese Academy of Sciences

Dengsheng Wu is an associate professor at the Institutes of Science and Development Chinese Academy of Sciences He is a member of the Youth Innovation Promotion Association of Chinese Academy of Sciences and severs as the academic editor of the Innovation, associate editor of the Chinese Journal of Management Science. He has published 80 articles, among which more than 30 articles are indexed by the SSCI/SCI, such as the important journal Risk Analysis European Journal of Operational Research, and Journal of Informetrics. He is the owner of a second-class scientific award in Qinghai Science and Technology Progress Award, and several international awards for best papers. He has drafted 1 national standard, 3 patents, and 13 software copyrights. He has also drafted two policy recommendations as a major member, which are commented on by the National leaders of the People's Republic of China finally.

SPECIAL ISSUE

Selected papers are eligible to be considered for publication in a special issue in one of the four support journals, International Review of Financial Analysis, Energy Economics, International Review of Economics and Finance and Finance Research Letters. The final recommendation will be finished by our scientific committee before 20 November 2020. All the papers selected for inclusion in the special issues will go through the journal's blind review process. Please note there is not a guarantee for publication in the SI.
